

Scaling Up Community of Practice

Terms of Reference: Climate Change Working Group

Introduction:

The Scaling Up Community of Practice (CoP) was founded in 2015 to establish a peer network of experts across different fields for sharing operational approaches, experiences and lessons, developing and disseminating an effective M&E framework for scaling, and contribute to thought leadership and case examples on scaling. It is comprised of Working Groups on agriculture, education, health, fragile states, M&E, social enterprise, youth employment, and nutrition. A Climate Change Working Group (CC WG) was launched in 2020.

Objective:

To create a community of practitioners and analysts focused on knowledge sharing, collaboration, and innovation in scaling up climate change interventions.

Scope of Work:

Knowledge Sharing

Share good practices, case studies, methodologies and toolkits for scaling. Identification of knowledge gaps, conditions conducive to scaling, and learn from each other's (un-)successful experiences in scaling up climate change interventions.

Collaboration

Co-generate knowledge products, collaborate on joint initiatives, and organise consultations on publications related to the work of the CC WG.

Innovation

Facilitate the generation of ideas, discussion of novel concepts, and contribute to thought leadership in scaling up climate change interventions.

Facilitation and Membership:

The Co-Chairs of the CC WG are George Zedginidze (Green Climate Fund), and Amar Bhattacharya (Brookings). They coordinate with Larry Cooley and Johannes Linn who lead the Scaling Up CoP.

Membership is open to any participants with an interest in scaling up climate change interventions.

General Activities of the WG:

- Facilitate and document quarterly virtual meetings with members
- Contribute to CoP Scaling Up newsletter
- Participate in annual Scaling Up Workshop in Washington D.C.
- Represent WG at quarterly CoP Executive Committee meetings (Co-Chairs only)

Meetings:

The Co-Chairs will organise quarterly virtual meetings for all WG members and arrange WG representation at the annual Scaling Up Workshop in Washington.
